

Research Project Ideas to Address Climate Change and Western Water

Submitting this idea is not associated with any identified funding source to fund the suggested research, and is not done as part of any research proposal solicitation. This form is provided simply as a way for the CCAWWG to collect ideas and interests from others about how the research knowledge and capability gaps facing Western water managers can be addressed through research and development. CCAWWG will compile this and other ideas to establish a menu of potential projects for CCAWWG and others to consider as part of their planning. Refer to Workshop Handout 2 for an example of scope and content. Submit your idea to Dave Raff by email draff@do.usbr.gov or by FAX 303-445-6351 by March 31, 2008.
